Cherry Tree Distribution Begins Today; Few Copies Unsold; New Book Has Colonial Design

Features Eighteenth Century Production in Art Work
Under Supervision of Professor Crandall and Mr. Davis of Art Department

Distribution of the 1932 Cherry Tree, the annual of the University, begins this morning at the office of the Bursar of the University, 2033 G Street N. W., and at the office of the dean of the Medical School. Holders of pre-paid subscriptions will have their receipts honored at this time and a very limited number of books will be placed on sale for those who have not as yet subscribed.

Marking a decided departure from usual annual design, the 1932 Cherry Tree will be different in every respect. Taking as its theme the Bicentennial, the Cherry Tree has not only attempted to carry the inspiration of George Washington throughout the text matter of the book, but to incorporate within its covers that simplicity, grace, and dignity that was so prevalent in the books of the Colonial period. With this in mind the annual takes the appearance of an eighteenth century production.

The color of the calf grain cover is relieved by bright gold lines artistically arranged around the border while the backbone is done in red and gold, making the cover an exact imitation of Colonial bookbinding. A feature this year is a cardboard jacket that the book slips into, thus preserving the cover.

The methods of the eighteenth century have been incorporated in the book even to such details as type faces, choice of paper, page layouts and color.

Featuring art work prepared by the students in the Division of Fine Arts under the direct supervision of Professor Norris I. Crandall and Albert Nelson Davis, the Cherry Tree contains art work far superior to the general run that appears in college annuals.

The opening section of the book, printed in two colors with a full page portrait of George Washington and wood cuts of University views, presents the theme of the book in a very pleasing manner.

The main division pages, printed on antique paper, present highlights in the life of George Washington with appropriate descriptions. These ages separate the following divisions: Administration, Columbian College, Education, Engineering, Law, Medicine, Fine Arts, Government, Pharmacy, Fraternities, Sports, and Activities.

Credit for this year's annual goes to Pauline Schaub, editor; Wendell Bain, business manager; and the Board of Editors composed of: Ralph McCoy, Jean Fugitt, Elizabeth Rees, Marie Selgrist and William Hanback as well as the many assistants and staff members.

Professors Elected To Pi Gamma Mu

Social Science Society Honors
George Churchill and
Elmer Kayser

Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society, announces the election to the chapter at George Washington University of Dr. George Morton Churchill, professor of history, and Professor Elmer Louis Kayser, associate professor of history and director of the Division of University and Extension Students. These faculty members automatically become members of the chapter family council which now includes Dr. Lowell Joseph Ragatz, Dr. John A. Tillema, Dr. Dudley Wilson Willard, Professor Harold G. Sutton, and Dr. John Donaldson, the chairman.

It is also announced that Dr. William C. Johnstone, assistant professor of political science, and Mr. Paul Benjamin, lecturer in the department of sociology, both of whom were members of Pi Gamma Mu in other universities, will be affiliated with the George Washington chapter. Mr. Benjamin was formerly secretary of the District of Columbia Unemployment Committee.

The faculty council and student officers of the society are at present considering the names of those taking social science subjects who meet the requirements for election to the organization. The results of these elections will be announced at an early date.

Pi Gamma Mu has for its purpose the reward of under-graduate achievement in the field of the social sciences as well as the encouragement of graduate effort in these fields, and now has over a hundred chapters throughout the United States. The officers of the George Washington chapter, which was installed in May, 1930,

Pauline Schaub is the editor of the 1932 Cherry Tree which is being distributed by the Bursar's Office, beginning today at 9 a. m.

History Professors To Convene Friday

Students Have Opportunity to Attend Special Bicentennial Meeting

An opportunity that can come but once every hundred years is this spring open to advanced students of American History at George Washington University, in the special George Washington Bicentennial Meeting of the American Historical Association, to be held May 7, in the College of Music Auditorium of the Library of Congress. According to Professor Samuel Flagg Bemis, chairman of the committee on arrangements, American History students at the University are planning to attend in a body.

Registration will take place in Stockton Hall, on Friday morning. The meeting will open there in the afternoon with President Cloyd Heck Marvin delivering the greeting and Professor Elmer Louis Kayser as Chairman.

"Patriotism in the Schools" is the theme of the Friday afternoon meeting. The president of the association, Miss Mildred Coughlin, of Western High School, Baltimore, will speak on "History and Patriotism." Mrs. L. D. Hall, of Eastern High School, in this city, will discuss "Patriotism, Real and Superficial." Following the addresses, Professor Commager, of New York University, will lead general discussion.

A banquet will be held at the Raleigh Hotel on that evening, with Professor Dixon Ryan Fox, of Columbia University, as the speaker.

The Saturday morning session will be devoted to the annual business meeting and election of officers, followed by a program devoted to "Phases of Recent American History." Addresses by Professor John W. Oliver, of the University of Pittsburgh; and Professor Nelson E. Mead, of the College of the City of New York, are scheduled. Professor Samuel Flagg Bemis, executive officer of the history department will lead the discussion.

The University will tender a luncheon to members of the association at noon in Corcoran Hall.

David Lawrence, editor of the United States Daily, will deliver the closing address.

Men's Physical Examinations

Physical aptitude examinations for all University men will be held in the gymnasium from May 9-13, from 9-12 o'clock. It is important that every man enrolled for any physical education course take this prescribed test.

Seniors Will Meet Wednesday at 7:10 To Select Officers

Students Eligible for Graduation Urged to Attend Brief Meetings Tomorrow

Seniors in all schools and divisions of the University will meet briefly tomorrow evening, Wednesday, at 7:10 p. m. in rooms in Corcoran Hall to select a representative from each school and division who will serve on the Senior Class Committee which will elect Senior Class officers from among its members.

Because it is late in the University year and it is imperative that the Senior Class organize at once in order that its many functions may be satisfactorily directed, seniors are requested by the Administration to make particular efforts to be present at the meetings tomorrow night which will last no longer than 15 minutes if they can be started promptly.

Each group of seniors will organize itself in simple fashion and proceed immediately to elect its representative or, if the group is large, to elect a nominating committee which will then make its recommendations at further meetings which will thereby be made necessary on Thursday evening. In every case Thursday evening will be the final time for election of representatives.

Senior Class Meetings

Representatives of each school and division will meet Thursday evening at an hour and place to be announced, to elect a president and other officers.

Herbert Alexander To Edit Supplement

New Members Also Added to
Staff; Student Contributions Requested

Herbert L. Alexander was chosen the new editor of the Literary Supplement last week, upon the expiration of the term served by Eire Mooney, retiring editor.

Four new members were added to the staff of the supplement at the same time. They are L. Ron Hubbard, Eleanor Berge, Elizabeth Neyman, and Helen M. Swick.

Alexander has served on the literary supplement for two years as associate editor. He is the author of many stories of note which have appeared in the supplement. The policy of the supplement will remain unchanged under Alexander, who will follow the purpose of his predecessors in trying to give the campus what it wants.

The submission of personal essays, short stories and poems by persons not already associated with the supplement, is requested by the new editor.

"In the past few months," Alexander said, "nearly all the material published has been submitted by the staff or members of the literature classes."

Eller Leads Popularity Contest; Winner Gets Gate and Key Cup

Evelyn Eller is leading the field in the Gate and Key Popularity Contest. Viola Drury is running a close second, with the other participants maintaining approximately an even stand. The contest will close at 1 p. m. Wednesday, May 4. No official announcement will be made after 9 a. m. of that date until the appearance of the special issue of The Hatchet Thursday morning.

Coronation of the "Queen of the Carnival" will be held at 10 p. m. Saturday, May 7. The event, expected to be one of the highlights of the Carnival, will follow immediately on the conclusion of the vodvil skits and will precede the opening of the dance hall on Saturday evening. Either President Marvin, his proxy, or the president of the Student Council will place

University Carnival Attracts 30 Groups

Secrecy, Rumors Characterize
Mammoth Event This Week
End in the Yard

Thirty organizations have signified an intention to participate actively in the All-University Carnival to be held Friday and Saturday, while Gate and Key is now sponsoring a Popularity Contest to choose a "Carnival Queen," and Omicron Delta Kappa is reviving a traditional ball game with the faculty. Many of the organizations have entered in both vodvil and booth divisions, making a total of nearly fifty entries.

New entries in the Carnival are: Alpha Epsilon Phi will vend drinks in the Dance Hall, Kappa Sigma will conduct a vodvil booth with a ball throwing game as a sideline. A penny throwing game by Sigma Mu Sigma should draw the crowd from around Quigley's. Sigma Alpha Epsilon will offer several tables of Ping Pong. Phi Delta and Phi Sigma Sigma both have booths, but have not as yet made known what they will offer. Sigma Chi announces two games of skill. Phi Alpha will manage the corn game as well as a device for registering the sweetness of breath, while the Phi Sigma Kappas will offer rootbeer. Phi Mu will give a vodvil dance as well as an elaborate skit for the vodvil division. Pi Beta Phi will offer a song trio, while Theta Delta Chi promises a surprise in a skit, the idea of which is being kept secret.

What promises to be one of the big features in the booth division will be the dancing, which is under the supervision of Kappa Kappa Gamma, and will be run along the lines of a big time "Dime a Dance" hall. If you fail to have a partner, you may acquire one.

Student Council Elections Show Apathetic Response On Voters' Part; Only 1,198 Ballots Polled

Eight Men and Six Women Elected to Governing Body;
Contest Closest in Law School; Columbian College Selects Only Women

Close contests in some schools and divisions and miserably apathetic turnouts of voters in others characterized the elections to the 1932-33 Student Council last week end which resulted in the choice of eight men and six women to guide the administration of student activities next year.

There were 4,556 students eligible to vote, but only 1,198 made their way to the polls in Lambie House Thursday and Friday, barely 26 per cent of the total. Interest in the Law and Medical Schools, both of which have heretofore been considered relatively uninterested in University activities, reached a new high. On the contrary, the two largest groups, Junior and Columbian Colleges, showed themselves almost totally unconcerned with elections. Government, Pharmacy, and Fine Arts drew satisfactory votes, while Library Science and Education were scarcely represented in the ballot boxes, and there was little incentive to vote in the School of Engineering where there was a single candidate for the office.

Close contests were recorded in Law School, Junior College, Government and Fine Arts, but in only one case, Law School, was an elected candidate approached as closely as three votes.

Junior and Columbian Colleges, representing 54 per cent of the students, will be represented on the new Council by four women and one man. The new delegates from the former school are Betty Coon, James W. Haley and Mabel Money, while those from Columbian are Dorothy Niess and Catherine Prichard.

Elton Billings led all the candidates in the Law School by 17 votes, his closest competitor being D. J. Goode who was elected to the other post from that school by a vote of 11 to 9.

Two hundred and ninety-two students were entitled to vote in the Medical School and 236 visited the polls, a remarkable percentage. Samuel Dan-

Pledges Plan Award Of Scholarship Vase

Sorority With Best Average to Receive

An engraved silver vase will be presented to the sorority whose pledges have the highest scholastic average, by the Junior Panhellenic Association at a tea in the Alpha Delta Theta rooms early in May.

The pledges of each sorority on the council will be invited. The scholarship chairman of the different groups and one other member from each active chapter will also be guests at the tea.

The chairman in charge of the tea is Elizabeth Clary, Sigma Kappa, with Margaret Richards, Alpha Delta Pi, and Cordelia Baldwin, Kappa Kappa Gamma, assisting.

The announcement of the sorority winning the vase has not yet been made.

Faculty Baseball Players Oppose Honorary May 7

Plans are progressing for the Faculty-Omicron Delta Kappa baseball game which will be played on the monument lot, Saturday, May 7, at 2:30, as an integral part of the All-University Carnival.

Both sides have begun practice, but as yet the lineups are not available.

Professor Cruikshank, manager of the faculty team, has announced that fifteen members have signified their intention of taking part. Among those who have already turned out are Professors Tillema, Van Evera, Craft, Benson, Farrington, Myers, Dutton, and Lett. Omicron Delta Kappa has twelve of its members getting into shape and both sides promise a revelation in the great American pastime.

Clara M. Beyer to Address Freshman Women's Assembly

Mrs. Clara M. Beyer, director of the industrial division of the Children's Bureau, will address the Freshman Women's assembly Wednesday, May 4, at 12:10 in Corcoran Hall. Her talk will be on "Marriage and Careers."

Mrs. Beyer has spent some time in research in child labor and vocational guidance. All women interested in the University are invited to attend, states Mrs. Winnie G. Barrows, director of women's personal guidance.

Fulfilling Prophecies

Distribution begins this morning of a particularly attractive and valuable volume; the 1932 Bicentennial Cherry Tree, the yearbook of the George Washington University. The characteristics which make it a worth while investment for which value is more than amply received are given in detail in the news columns of this issue of The Hatchet, but a word of enthusiasm cannot be amiss. The editor has been privileged to view one of the new books and finds that it lives up to all the glowing prophecies that have been forecast during the past six months. The 1932 Cherry Tree is a volume that will be treasured.

Hang Together or Hang Separately

Next year's Interfraternity Council members took office Sunday and pledged themselves to carry on the policy of interfraternity cooperation inaugurated and executed by the last Council. The Hatchet has before and will again commend the retiring Council on the suppression of back-biting politics and the sincere furtherance of fraternalism within fraternalism during the past year.

But during the next year our Greek letter organizations will more than ever need this cooperation.

The student financial situation has become a serious problem among fraternities. College papers coming daily to our office are crowded with "depression" stories. Banta's Greek Exchange last month published several columns of such excerpts. Sunday's Chicago Tribune ran a half column story on the situation at the University of Chicago. And local fraternity affiliates know that the wolf is prowling in the yard if he hasn't yet knocked on the door.

Next year's Council is charged with the responsibility of being truly a Council, a cooperative union, and not merely a social calendar commission regulating competitions and promoting a prom.

A "cooperative buying" idea, similar to the highly successful plan used at Stanford University last year, is only one of many proposals the Interfraternity Council may act upon to preserve the fraternity system at George Washington.

Election Comments

Sadly disappointing is the total vote recorded in the elections to Student Council Friday and Saturday when only 1200 students expressed their political preferences in Lambie House.

Such an apathetic turnout of the electorate was scarcely in line with the campaigning and interest which seemed to characterize electioneering during the six weeks prior to the casting of votes, and the actual reason is not particularly clear although it is apparent that voters in Junior and Columbian Colleges are to a great degree responsible for the poor totals. When only 358 students among the 2,458 in these two colleges make known their choices, the handwriting on the wall clearly reads either that the candidates were unknown or unpopular, the voters were not approached, or that there is genuine dissatisfaction in Junior College with the Council's constitutional requirement that candidates shall be enrolled in the school they seek to represent, thus eliminating many sophomores from candidacy.

But elections are over and may as well be eliminated from further consideration except where they may be utilized to improve the methods to be employed in the future. We now have a Council-elect which will take office in a few weeks, composed of eight men and six women who form a group that is as representative of the University in general as may be expected, except that an unusual vote caused the election of four members of one campus sorority as representatives, a decided compliment to that organization's electioneering efforts. There does not appear any reason to fear this pre-

The Pi Phi's have had quite a time pruning their social list this week, and it's so inconvenient to go anywhere without an invitation. . . . Everyone has received $100 donations from mysterious philanthropists, blind uncles and whatnots, while all the ambitious managers have given at least two months' salary. . . . The Kappa's and Chi O's are taking time oiling up Van Dermark, but Mr. Wallingford II says, "Noseap. . . . After all, it all goes to buy the hand pants, so won't you buy a pant's button? Professor Kennedy's class owes getting out 20 minutes early to a couple of young hopefuls who barged into his class, asserting that they hadn't "paid no fees." . . . Jack Mason's fraternity brothers are busy demonstrating that old cut throat brotherly spirit these days—particularly at dances. . . . All the new Pi Deltas are sporting little keys these days. Something else for the women to get. . . . The Sigma Mu Sigma's, to justify their newly acquired membership on the Council will shortly throw another one of those Infernal Smokers. . . . Fesler quits work by the doctor's order, and will in future bring home the bacon by selling Bibles. . . . Acacia was awarded the scholarship cup at the Pledge Council dance, but Delta Tau Delta was, as usual, contest the award. What for? . . . The best way to have a Student Council meeting next year will be to have the A. D. P.'s call a chapter meeting. . . . Wishing you a little cheer and pleasant dreams. Au revoir.

Troubadour Books Must Be Submitted Within Six Weeks

Numerous Members of Organization Will Receive Keys for Two Years' Service

All books for next year's Troubadour show must be submitted to the committee of judges by June 10. Students intending to submit manuscripts are requested to send them as soon as possible to the Troubadour box, 1714 Rhode Island Avenue, N. W.

Announcement was made at the last meeting of the organization of the names of those eligible to receive Troubadour keys, and those who will be eligible after the completion of one more year of work. Those who want pins before the term closes must order them immediately.

A silver service set was recently presented to Dr. Robert Bolwell, faculty advisor of the organization for the past few years, as a token of the Troubadours' great appreciation of his services.

ponderance of members from a single group, but jealousy is bound to get in its work in the coming year and there is always danger from cliques and coalitions.

The election of a president is the most important single affair that faces this new student government group, and announcement of the man of its choice will be awaited with interest that springs not only from curiosity but from hope and a degree of confidence.

An Opportunity to Relax

With student interest definitely mounting and many organizations and individuals entering wholeheartedly into the many necessary preparations, the University Carnival Friday and Saturday evenings begins to assume definite form. Popularity contest, baseball game, vodvil, dancing, booths—these are the highlights of an event that will not only provide the means of properly furnishing the University Band but will offer students amusement of the happiest sort, the "home-town" type, at reasonable cost.

WORLD NEWS

By RICHARD C. MARKS.

Last Sunday was International Labor Day. There were working-class demonstrations in almost every country of the world. Only in Soviet Russia were the participants encouraged rather than treated quietly by police and military officials. In other nations, both Socialists and Communists led thousands of men and women in protest against their treatment by the capitalists in power. In many foreign cities, as well as in the United States, the demonstrations were aimed at the continued incarceration of Tom Mooney in a California prison. May Day was first started by the United States fifty years ago, but when it became an international socialist event, the American Federation of Labor repudiated its connections. In recent years authorities here have directed public attention to child welfare to counteract the labor influence during this week.

Secretary of State Stimson is returning this week from Geneva, having expressed satisfaction over his European visit to the Disarmament Conference. Just what he has accomplished no one knows. His conversations with leading European statesmen on arms reduction were blocked when the French premier reported he was ill.

France, however, has been in an uncertain state for some weeks, hesitant about making any definite moves of domestic or international concern. It's all over now, since parliamentary elections were held last Sunday. No great change in administrative policy is expected, as a coalition cabinet will probably continue to direct affairs, so many and so diverse are the political parties in the Republic.

Congress still is hashing and rehashing the "economy" bill. Nothing is certain. If you'll lose your job, you'll know it before long. As for Federal savings, little progress has evidently been made. One constructive move, however, has been effected. President Hoover has been given authority to make reorganization changes in the federal structure, something he's wanted for a long time.

Columbian College Holds Lead With Fifth Consecutive Victory

Intramural Champions Win Twice Over Engineers in Week; Junior College in Second Place By Beating Pharmacists, 21-0

By JOHN BUSICK

Pharmacists	1	3
Pre-Meds	0	2

RESULTS LAST WEEK

Junior College 21, Pharmacists 0 Columbian 7, Engineers 1.
Columbian 7, Engineers 1.

Columbian College continued its march toward the Intramural baseball title with two more victories this week, both over the Engineers, for their fifth straight triumph. In the only other game played the Junior College swamped the Pharmacists, 21-0, on Friday. Tuesday's scheduled game between the Junior College and the Columbians was rained out and the Pre-Meds and the Juniors postponed their Saturday contest until later in the season.

By virtue of their success, the Columbians remain undefeated and at the present have a strangle hold on first place in the league standing. Winning one game while the Engineers lost twice shoved the Junior College aggregation into second place while the Pharmacists and the Pre-Meds bring up the rear in the order mentioned.

In their two battles on Thursday and Saturday the Engineers and the Columbians showed some real first class playing, the latter winning both games by the score of 7-1. Weingartner and Hetzel, opposing pitchers in the first game, both worked consistently good, the former allowing five hits while Hetzel limited the slugging Columbians to eight safe blows. Blackstone and Fenlon got two hits apiece for the Columbians while Baldwin was the only Engineer to hit safely more than once. Both teams exhibited classy fielding throughout the game, Zahn and Fenlon starting in this respect for the winners and Jackson and Baldwin for the losers.

In the first inning the Columbians opened the scoring with four runs on three hits, a sacrifice fly and an infield out. Burgess tripled, Mulvey was hit by a pitched ball, Blackstone doubled, scoring both men and Fenlon's home run scored Blackstone. Payne's long fly and Zahn's roller were sandwiched in this barrage of hits for good measure.

The ultimate victors concluded their run-making in the next round with three scores. Three walks, an error and Blackstone's long hit combined to produce the tallies at this time. For the remainder of the game Hetzel was able to keep the alien batters fairly well in check and though in hot water on two occasions, managed to prevent further scoring.

Meanwhile Weingartner was breezing along in fine style keeping the Engineers at bay at all times and though touched for the losers' only score in the third, he never was in danger after this slight spurge.

Score by innings:

On Saturday the Columbians ace, Hale Daniels, turned back the Engineers with two hits and one run which the builders scored on an error. Lefty Hoffman hurled for the losers and though touched for ten hits, stayed the route. Daniels seems to be getting better with each game he pitches, his eleven strikeouts showing his complete control of the situation. Zahn and Mulvey each rang up three hits for the winners with Blackstone getting two. Myers and Lynch were the only Engineers to connect safely.

Baldwin reached second when Mulvey dropped his long fly to open the sixth. He immediately took a long lead and came all the way home when Blackstone threw into center field trying to pick him off base. This was the Engineers' only tally and their only real threat. In the third Myers singled cleanly to left but Hoffman forced him out and the next three batters were helpless when Daniels opened up with his fast ball.

The Columbians scattered their runs somewhat, scoring one in the first, two in the fourth, one in the fifth and three in the seventh. This last inning rally was brought about on hits by Zahn, Mulvey and Blackstone with Caruso's walk and Burgess' long fly scattered in for considerable help. Zahn's double followed by Mulvey's timely single to center broke the ice in the first and the winners hit Hoffman rather freely.

Score by innings:

Friday's game between the Pharmacists and the Junior College was rather respectable until the last round when the former blew up completely and the Juniors scored 13 runs on as many hits. Before this melee the score stood at 8-0 which was bad enough, but the winners fell on four Pharmacist hurlers and batted completely around twice. Gleason pitched well for the Juniors, limiting the opposition to four hits while fanning seven. The victors took advantage of this opportunity to fatten their batting averages considerably. Fisher, Alfaro and McPherson led with four bingles while Manville, Rote, and Gleason each got three.

Score by innings:

Junior College	1 3 0 2 0 2 13-21

Sport Axe

By GORDON V. POTTER

It is reported that a number of the athletes playing for Junior College chafed under the dominant management of Grant Van Demark and forthwith switched their allegiance and ability to the Pre-Meds. Trilling, Noonan, Parrish, and Raskowski evidently couldn't stand... or understand... the brilliance of Van Demark's managerial ability.

Ah! at last I have a backer in the Student Council. Quoting from the platform of James W. Haley, recently elected member from the Junior College: "...I believe the students would support a lacrosse team. The attendance at football games last fall was very good and the gym was filled to capacity for every basketball game. Lacrosse is an interesting game to witness and lacrosse at G. W. would no doubt prove popular and profitable."

Why can't George Washington University have a big banquet in the spring at which all letters and honors would be bestowed upon the worthy sportsmen.

The advantages of such an affair far outweigh the disadvantages. In the first place it would be more economical to stage one banquet on a magnificent scale than two or three smaller dinners throughout the year. With the prestige of the Colonials as athletes rising continually, a function of the proper magnitude to honor their efforts is distinctly a necessity.

Hale "Hoss" Daniels, another versatile athlete, has an enviable record as a hurler for Columbian College. In the last game between Columbian and the Engineers he allowed 2 hits and struck out 11 men. And even taking into consideration the opposition, this smacks of big league calibre.

Manager of the Auth's baseball team was seen out looking over that Columbian outfit the other day, and was reported to have made offers to a few of the youths with a remuneration of $5 per game promised.

They must be good—but—Professionalism!

Colonial Racketers Emerge Victorious In Thrilling Match

Hampden-Sydney Loses Close Fray, 5-4; Result in Doubt Till Last Set

For genuine thrills and excitement the tennis matches played between George Washington University and Hampden-Sydney last Friday, April 29, were the last word. After nine rounds of superb playing the score rested G. W.—5; H. S.—4. The six singles matches were divided equally each team capturing three.

Goldsmith lost in three sets to Talbot. Goldsmith continually fed Talbot's weak back hand, but was finally conquered by a powerful drive and masterful footwork on the part of the victor. Ivan Edwards playing the number two position for G. W., proved an easy master of Blake, manager of the opposition.

Gable fell prey to the on slaughter of Thomas and went down in two fast sets. Robinson, suffering from a badly sprained back, experienced difficulty in defeating his opponent, Paulette, in two overtime sets. R. Sherfy conquered Crawford after a hard struggle. Bennett, the number six man, dropped two sets to Troland.

Doubles Are Even
Columbia Country Club has been the scene of many first rank doubles matches; but the eight sets played Friday can stand for a long time as record holders for enthusiasm. The number one doubles team composed of Edwards and Goldsmith lost to Talbot and Crawford. The Sherfy twins took the laurels from Thomas and Blake in three hot sets. This left the match to be decided by the number three team composed of Robinson and Gable.

George Washington won the first set 8-6; and lost the second set ignominiously 6-0. Then with the entire match resting its fate in the last set Robinson and Gable came through with a victory, 6-4.

The scores of the Hampden-Sydney match follow: Singles: Talbot (HS) defeated Goldsmith (GW) 6-1, 1-6;

Intramural Sports Program Advances

Tennis and Horseshoe Tournaments In Semi-Finals; Golf in Quarter-Finals

Intramural sports in tennis, golf, and horseshoes advanced another round in the their respective tournaments during the week.

In the tennis singles, C. W. Smith, Bernie Jones, Tom Baldwin, Eugenio, and Reeside won their matches in this round. The most outstanding upset thus far was Bernie Jones' slashing defeat of Chen, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4. Smith's win over Swingle, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1, was commendable. Eugenio advanced to the semi-finals by defeating Reeside, 6-0, 6-1. The only doubles match played was the Jones, Baldwin-Eugenio, Vettori match which saw the former team on top, 6-2, 3-3.

The semi-finalists to date in the horseshoe pitching tournament, held on courts in the back of the Fine Arts building, are Rivercomb, Hickman, and Blackstone.

"Hoggy" Albert reached the finals by a victory over Sherfy.

The golf matches are not as far advanced as the remainder of the spring sports with the quarter-finals not completed. Earl Knibbely, Buck Jones, Kolb and McKee are the only men having completed their scheduled matches.

The results of a study carried on by the curriculum committee at Bryn Mawr show that sophomores work most, then seniors, then juniors, and lastly freshmen, who work just about the normal amount of time.

6-4; Edwards (GW) defeated Blake (HS) 6-2, 6-2; Thomas (HS) defeated Gable (GW) 6-2, 6-1; Robinson (GW) defeated Paulette (HS) 9-7, 7-5; Sherfy (GW) defeated Crawford (HS) 6-4, 7-5; and Troland (HS) defeated Bennett (GW) 8-6, -4.

Doubles: Talbot and Crawford (HS) defeated Edwards and Goldsmith (GW) 4, 6-2; L. Sherfy and R. Sherfy (GW) defeated Thomas and Blake (HS) 6-4, 8-10, 6-2; and Robinson and Gable (GW) defeated Paulette and Troland (HS) 8-6, 0-6, 6-4.

Final Score: George Washington-5, Hampden-Sydney-4.

Two Matches Lost

By Varsity Golfers

Colonials Lose to Richmond, 13½-4½; and Penn, 5-1

Colonial varsity golfers met defeat twice last week-end, losing decisively to Richmond University on Friday at the Manor Club, 13½ to 4, and dropping a closely contested match to Penn University on Saturday at Columbia Country Club, 5 to 1.

With the exception of 2 matches, the Virginians were victors by a comfortable margin over their hosts. Coleman won the lone victory for the Buff and Blue, defeating Meredith, 2½ to ½, while Coleman and Atherton held Swanson and Meredith of the visitors all even in a best ball match, each side scoring ½ point.

At Columbia, however, the Buff and Blue drivers gave the Quakers of Penn a far more interesting battle than the score would indicate. Kendrick defeated Cross of Penn 3 to 2, for the only Colonial victory, but in all the matches the Quakers were pressed to the limit before triumphing.

The next match scheduled for George Washington is a tentative one with Duke University, on May 6.

Summaries:

Wright (Richmond) 3, Suter 0; Grennan (Richmond) 3, Kendrick 0; best ball, Richmond 3, George Washington 0.

Penn vs. George Washington: Byrbee (Penn) 1 point, Atherton 0; Owens (Penn) 1, Coleman 0; best ball, Penn 3 points.

Kendrick (George Washington) 1, Cross 0; Robinson (Penn) 1, Olsen 0; best ball, Penn 1 point. Total, Penn 5, George Washington 1.

Varsity Tennis Team Sees Allison and Vines Defeat Canadians

Donning the garb of spectators and putting aside all earthly signs of their capabilities, the George Washington Varsity Tennis team witnessed the Davis Cup matches at the Chevy Chase Country Club last Thursday. The team attended the matches in a group as guests of the University in company with the faculty manager of tennis, Max Farrington.

Davis Cup Tournaments suggest in Washington society the highest pinnacle of amateur sport competition. From Mrs. Herbert Hoover down to the lowest official in Diplomatic Circles there is a stir of activity when these matches are played. Fashions in spring clothing are established at this event. Society columns the world over are bulged by what the wife of the Minister from wore on this occasion.

Then, disregarding the social aspect, a brand of tennis is seen which is seldom duplicated. Thursday Vines defeated Dr. Wright in five sets, and Allison defeated Rainville in three straight sets. These two victories put the United States in the lead of the Canadian players, and the match was clinched by the victory in the doubles match Saturday.

Lieut. Wirkus, West Indian King Guest at Phi Sigma Kappa Dinner

Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity had the unexpected and unusual pleasure of having as its guest for dinner on Thursday night, April 28, Lieutenant Faastine Wirkus, an officer in the Garde d'Haiti, who has the distinction of being the reigning king of an island in the West Indies. The island, known as Gonave, has a population of approximately ten to twelve thousand natives, and an area of approximately 300 square miles.

Members of the fraternity were keenly interested in the conversation with Lieutenant Wirkus, whose experiences are the subject of a book written by him. The Lieutenant's connection with the islanders originated in his assignment to duty with the Marines in Haiti during disturbances there in 1915. He was sent to Gonave in 1925 after his interest had been aroused by a visit there, through which he perceived greater advantages in life

WHO'S WHO ON THE FACULTY

ELMER LOUIS KAYSER

One of our little known University administrative activities is handled by one of our best known faculty members and an alumnus of George Washington. Professor Elmer Louis Kayser, who is the end of a big cigar and offered an explanation of his division and a few facts about his part as a member of the George Washington University student body.

Professor Kayser entered the University in 1914. During the entire period of his student career, he was assistant to Professor Charles Clinton, then head of the History department. In 1916 he was elected secretary of the first Student Council organized on the campus. The following year he won the first Davis Prize, the Hubbard Prize in History, was Senior Marshall, and president of the senior class. He was graduated in June 1917 with a bachelor of arts degree. Returning in the fall of 1917, he became graduate manager of student activities. He also received his A. M. from George Washington. His social fraternity is Theta Upsilon Omega.

Since his graduation from the University, Professor Kayser has been a member of the faculty continuously, with the exception of one semester in 1918-19, when he was in the army at Camp Zachary Taylor, Kentucky, and one year of sabbatical leave in 1929-30. He has held the positions of recorder, assistant librarian, secretary of the University, and director of the summer sessions. For five years he was alumni secretary. "The Grand Social Enterprise," Professor Kayser's latest work, is now being published by the Columbia Press.

In 1930, when the University system was reorganized, he was found necessary to make arrangements for certain special students. This division was assigned to Professor Kayser for administration.

The new division has progressed steadily for the past two years under the direction of Professor Kayser. It is important in that it separates and centralizes the administration of a number of students who were formerly improperly scattered throughout the various schools and colleges of the University.

Herbert Alexander Named Literary Supplement Editor

Therefore the stories, poems, and essays are not really representatives of the campus, but of a small group. "The staff of the supplement is anxious to print that which is being written outside the bounds of the classroom, and will welcome any and all material."

Alexander is the third editor to guide the Literary Supplement this year. John Heimbürger resigned at the beginning of the second semester because of outside activities, and was succeeded by Elre Mooney, who served the unfinished term.

Hour Glass Tennis Racket

Awarded to Helen Chafee

The question as to who is the luckiest person acquainted with an Hour Glass member or pledge was settled yesterday afternoon in Corcoran 15 when Helen Chafee of the School of Education, was awarded a Top-Flite tennis racket. Disposition of the racket was sponsored by Hour Glass honor society, and the drawing was made by Professor Elmer Louis Kayser.

Governor John Garland Pollard Among Famous George Washington Graduates

There is a multitude of men and women, graduates of the several colleges of George Washington, who have become prominent in public and private enterprise at home and abroad. How many of these people do most of us know? Possibly not very many. These are men and women who struggled with some of the same problems that now confront our student body. They hurried here and there making the proper arrangements for their "Proms" and parties, or sat in groups "cramming" for "finals" just as we do. No doubt they did a great deal to facilitate the successful execution of many of our undertakings. We should know the names and some of the achievements of some of these alumni.

There is one Virginia family which has sent four generations of her sons to our University. All of them have done well in their chosen fields, but the representative of the third generation is particularly prominent in the political field today. Governor John Garland Pollard of Virginia received his undergraduate training at Richmond College. He was graduated from Columbian (George Washington) University with an LL. B. in 1893 and LL. D. in 1921.

Is Prolific Author
Governor Pollard practiced law in Richmond for nearly twenty-five years. When he was barely thirty years of age, he was elected to the Constitutional Convention of 1901-02. For the five years following he was chairman of the Virginia Commission on Uniform State Laws. He was editor of the Virginia Code, annotated, published in 1904, to which he published a supplement in 1922. He is also author of thirty short lessons on Virginia government. In 1922 Governor E. Lee Trinkle appointed him to the Commission of Simplification and Economy in State and Local Government. Later he was named by Governor Harry Flood Byrd to the Reed Simplification Commission which recommended many of the governmental reforms later effected.

Until his nomination for Governor in 1929, he was Dean of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship of William and Mary College. He has served as a member of the Federal Trade Commission and as Attorney General of Virginia. During the World War the Governor served with the Y. M. C. A. in France and Germany.

On August 6, 1929, Mr. Pollard was nominated in the Democratic primary for Governor of the State of Virginia. He was subsequently elected and is now serving a four-year term which will terminate in 1934.

Governor Pollard is a member of the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity from Richmond College and is also a Phi Beta Kappa.

Melodies Enrapture Students on Campus

"Hark! Hark! The lark at heaven's gate sings!" wrote Shakespeare several centuries ago, but he had never been on the George Washington campus with the many enraptured young men that gather there on Tuesday and Saturday noons, to hear the beautiful melodies that issue from Corcoran 29.

Basking in the glorious sunshine (an excuse), and listening to the ethereal music, the men feel that spring is truly here. They linger 'till the Women's Glee Club has finished its rehearsal for the joint spring concert of the glee clubs in May, and await to see the sirens emerge.

Congress Straddles 'Pro' Athlete Policy

Student Speakers Discuss Conditions in University Today

As usual, a heated and interesting discussion took place at the meeting of the Speaker's Congress on Monday, April 25. The topic under consideration was "Professionalism in College Athletics."

DeWitt Bennett upheld the contention that there should be professionalism in college athletics, basing his argument on the fact that the sport of football has grown into a public attraction to such an extent that it has become expedient for colleges to please the spectators. In order to secure crowd approval the college must secure the best ability. Some monetary compensation is necessary to do this. The football player of today is a performer, and because of that, deserves some substantial tangible reward, he said.

Brazelton, speaking for the opposition, condemned professionalism in college athletics in any form. He stated that the athletes should represent a college in fact. To be truly representative, they must be enrolled primarily to receive an education just as any other student and participate in a sport for the glory of the university. Concluding, he related his own experience at Auburn University in Alabama, stressing the excellent spirit maintained there in the student body. During the open forum there ensued scathing denunciations of any form of professionalism in college athletics. Especially condemned was the pseudo-professionalism existing in certain universities throughout the U. S. today. The final result was a tie vote, and the Speaker's Congress goes on record as neither disapproving nor favoring professionalism in college athletics.

200 Attend Spring Convention of Clubs Here; Marvin, Wilbur Speak

The annual spring convention of the Middle Atlantic Province of the Federation of College Catholic Clubs closed Sunday afternoon with a province business meeting at the Mayflower Hotel. The convention was attended by more than 200 persons representing the 21 College Catholic Clubs.

Following the address of welcome the Rev. Dr. John K. Cartwright, chaplain of the Colonial Newman Club, delivered an address on the subject of "Religion and Culture." The meeting was closed by an address by Rev. Dr. Ignatius Smith, O. P., entitled, "Religion and Patriotism."

The formal prom was given at the Mayflower Hotel Saturday evening with 120 couples present.

Following the attendance at the 9 o'clock Mass Sunday at Saint Patrick's Church, where the conventionites received Communion in a body, a breakfast was given at the Mayflower Hotel with 162 guests present. President Cloyd Heck Marvin delivered the first address and stressed the importance which the University places upon the affiliation of its student body with the several churches. He stated that if students attend the University and acquire knowledge without acquiring the principles which will prompt them to make a proper use of that knowledge, the work of the University will go for naught, and the graduated students will become liabilities instead of assets to society.

The closing address was given by Major General Paul B. Malone, commanding general of the third corps area, U. S. Army. General Malone stressed the importance which both church and state must set upon the rank and file of its membership and citizens if they are to attain their respective missions.

Let's smoke a MAN'S SMOKE!

WHEN the girls begin to cut corners in our cars and do back somersaults in our planes and borrow our cigarettes—then it's time to take to a pipe!

Call it the last stronghold of masculine defenses—or the one pet diversion our little friends keep their fingers off. Call it what you will—there's something downright satisfying, understanding, companionable about a friendly, mellow, MASCULINE pipe! It's a real man's smoke!

And a pipe's at its best when you fill it up with Edgeworth. There's a rare, mellow flavor to the Edgeworth blend of fine burleys that simply can't be touched. It's out long—to give you a cool, slow-burning smoke. And you'll find it the favorite with smokers in 42 out of 54 colleges.

You can get Edgeworth wherever good tobaccoists sell smoke. But if you've never tried it, we'd like the fun of treating you to that first satisfying pipeful. Just write to Lerus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va.

Law Student Writes Article For "American Lumberman"

The American Lumberman, published at Chicago, and generally recognized as the leading trade journal of its kind in the country, recently carried as its feature article a legal discussion of the problem of enforcing interest charges on retailers' past-due accounts, written by G. Darrell Neilson, a third year student in the law school.

Neilson has served on the news staffs of several inter-mountain newspapers and the United States Daily. He is a member of Woodrow Wilson Senate of Delta Theta Phi, national honorary legal fraternity, and he also is affiliated with Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, a chapter of which he was president while attending the Utah State College.

Forty prisoners are studying psychology, law, harmony, and Esperanto at the University of Minnesota, by correspondence.

Professor Roberts Speaks To Drama Appreciation Club

Professor H. G. Roberts of the Public Speaking Department talked on "The Contract," the play presented by the Cue and Curtain Club at the Wardman Park Theater Friday and Saturday, at the meeting of the Drama Appreciation Club April 27. He also gave an interesting sketch of the life of the author, Royall Tyler.

Tomorrow evening, May 4, at 8 o'clock, Nelson Bell, the theater critic of the Washington Post, is going to speak to the club. The meeting will be held at the Lambie House and those interested are invited to attend.

University Library Obtains New Books

President Marvin and Faculty Members Donate Valuable Works

Among the books added to the George Washington University Library during the month of April are several gifts from President Cloyd Heck Marvin and some of the faculty members.

President Marvin is the donor of "A Study of Architectural Schools" by Bosworth and Jones; "Faust, Eine Tragödie" by Goethe; "Statesmen and Gadflies" by E. L. Pearce; and "The George Washington Atlas" edited by Lawrence Martin. This atlas is a collection of eighty-five maps, including twenty-eight made by George Washington, and forty-two new maps concerning his activities in peace and war and his place in history.

Professor Norris Ingersoll Crandall donated two books, the best known of which is H. G. Wells' "Outline of History." Christopher Garnett, instructor in philosophy, presented the library with a copy of J. H. Robinson's "Mind in the Making." Professor Robert F. Griggs gave a copy of his own book, "A Key to the Families of Flowering Plants." Edward Porter Henderson was the donor of "The American Mineralogist."

Among the six books presented by Professor Lowell S. Ragatz is one of his own works "Colonial Studies in the United States During the Twentieth Century." Professor Harold M. Sutton donated "Principles of Investment" by A. M. Sakolski.

Education Societies Have First Banquet

Doctor Frederick J. Kelly Will Give Principal Address

The first annual banquet of the Women's and Men's Education Clubs of George Washington University will be at the Dodge Hotel Saturday, May 14, at 7 p. m. Dr. Frederick J. Kelly, former president of the University of Idaho, and at present chief of the division of higher education in the United States office of education, will give the principal address. A program of unusual interest along a humorous vein is being arranged by a hard-working committee. They are planning a parody on modern educational theories, including a "war" on the so-called activities program in public schools. Reservations must be in by Monday, May 9.

One of the features of this joint banquet will be the installation of the newly elected officers of the Women's Education Club. Officers for the 1932-33 year are Mildred Green, president; Hazel Cragum, vice president; Katherine Wassman, secretary; and Bertha Meridian, treasurer. All of these officers are now selling tickets for the banquet. Miss Ruth Coyner also has a supply in Professor William C. French's office in Building D. Sponsors and honorary members have received special invitations and the officers hope that many will accept.

A year ago, through the efforts of C. Manley Fesler, the Men's Education Club was formed. Last fall Florence Marks became active in the interests of a Women's Education Club, and under her guidance as its first president, that organization has prospered and grown through the present school year.

Wolf, Catholic University Tower.

Pi Beta Phi Gives Open House Last Sunday Evening

The members of Pi Beta Phi held open house on Sunday, May 1st, from four until seven. The rooms were attractively decorated, and the Pi Phi's and their guests were all charmingly dressed. Jean Shull presided over the tea table, which carried out the sorority color scheme in candles and flowers.

Members of every organization on the campus were present, and they spent a most enjoyable afternoon over the teacups. Pauline Schaub and Marie Siegrist were in the receiving line and greeted people as they arrived and left.

The city council of Hanover, Germany, has erected bulletin boards at popular corners, where a person who has been stood up by his or her date may post a note telling where he or she has moved on or where he may be found.

Plans Formulated for Press Conference of Washington Schools

Pi Delta Epsilon, men's honorary journalistic fraternity, elected officers at its regular meeting in The Hatchet Office, Tuesday, April 25.

John T. Madigan was elected president of the group, with John T. Vivian vice president, Gordon V. Potter secretary, and Roger Marquis treasurer.

Plans have been made to hold a press conference for Washington High School papers, which will bring together the journalists of the various city schools for the purpose of comparing papers and giving helpful criticism.

A move like this by a neutral body has long been desired by the local schools.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Forms

Auxiliary Society of Relatives

A Minerva Club, comprising mothers, wives, and sisters of members of the Washington City Rho chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon was organized at a tea sponsored by Mrs. Rosina B. Hargrave, house mother, last week.

This is the first organization of its kind established by a George Washington fraternity. It is understood that the Minerva Club has received the enthusiastic endorsement of Mrs. Minnie G. Barrows, who attended the organization meeting as the representative of the University.

'The Contrast' Hits Season's New High In Amateur Drama

Actors Are Well Cast; Production Shows Polish as It Moves Toward Finale

By BETTY COON

This time the elusive "spot" was really crowned with talent. Acting honors for Royall Tyler's "The Contrast," Cue and Curtain presentation at Wardman April 29 and 30, could be divided up and presented to each member of the cast.

The story centers around the desires of a doting old father, Van Rough, to make his beautiful daughter, Maria, a suitable match before his death. Ever on the lookout for the "main chance," he betroths her to a supposedly wealthy beau, Mr. Dimple, who really has only a packet of bills and waning credit. With the entrance of grave, handsome Colonel Manly, the situation changes when Maria and he fall in love. The intervention of Charlotte Manly, his sister, and the helpful coquetry of Letitia, her heiress friend, winds the play up to an amusing and satisfactory climax. The Colonel and Maria are brought together while Van Rough rubs his hands and says "I told you so."

In the opening of the play, Amanda Chittum and Virginia Wilson get off to a flying start, trading the spot back and forth between them.

Ruth Molyneux gave a very charming and sincere delineation of Maria and delighted the audience with her sweet singing. Her acting is a polished art. Hazen Shea, as the Colonel, standing for probity and all that is honorable, grew better as the play went on and completely mastered his audience at the final curtain.

Michael Green was excellent and firmly convinced all that he, too, was an old hand at the grease paint.

As to our old friends, Joe Danzansky and Frank Westbrook, whenever they appeared, the audience settled back for a good laugh. Joe, as Manley's Yankee servant, won everyone's heart as a "roaring cute fellow." Frank's art of simpering was down to a fine point. In his attempt Joe looked like a rabbit. Helena Cooke proved an unwilling victim to Joe's clumsy advances and to his six gallant bows of introduction. Her laugh was good.

Sol Orleans in his interpretation of Dimple succeeded in making himself thoroughly laughed out of favor despite his vain allusions otherwise. He was not to be improved upon.

The play moved rapidly with only a slight drag in the first act. The unique opening, Steve Nyman's prologue, and the still more clever close, left the spectators with the feeling of having seen something decidedly different and very good. Despite the wig, they all knew Grant.

Much credit should be given to Constance Connor Brown for able direction of a talented cast, for an excellent performance and too, for a prompt opening curtain. Phyllis Mills as the student assistant and president of the organization, certainly shares honors.

This play, the first to be written on an American theme by an American author, produced by American professional players, had General Washington himself as one of the original patrons. It was presented by Cue and Curtain under the auspices of the District of Columbia George Washington Bicentennial Commission.

Perhaps the only regret that remains is that a Washington in powdered wig and silken breeches was not represented in one of the sideboxes. Would he, too, have flirted with the little orange girl selling her wares between acts?

Musical Selections To Feature Meeting

International Students' Society to Hear Numbers by Mexican Student

The International Student's Society has planned an unusually interesting meeting for Wednesday, May 4, in Corcoran Hall. One of the most prominent features will be musical selections on the violin and piano, by Raymond G. Reyaz, of Mexico, who will play, among other things, "Querido Mio," a piece of his own composition. Morris Deutsch, of Hungary, a well known student who was formerly with the Brooklyn Symphony Orchestra, will also take part in the program.

As has been formerly announced, the movie "A Trip Through Holland," will be presented, and Henri R. M. Van Hoof, who is a student from Holland, will speak.

This exceptional meeting is open to all students. An admission charge of twenty-five cents will be charged to all who are not members. This will include refreshments.

in the form of a demure Kappa—for ten cents a dance.

Present plans call for an entirely different vodvil on Friday and Saturday nights. The program, as tentatively arranged, will include eight acts a night, requiring about an hour to present. Short skits will be interspersed with longer and more elaborate acts. From the entries it is apparent that the audience will be offered an unusual and versatile entertainment with all conceivable forms of dancing, singing, music, and novelties.

Several of the longer acts have been prepared with great secrecy and elaborate preparations, and promise to be well worth anyone's viewing. The fact that the majority of the vodvil will consist of music and women should particularly appeal to the stronger sex. A colossal fashion show will offer many beautiful costumes and dresses which will be exhibited on striking models. A large orchestra will provide music for the entire vodvil and, in addition, will provide an interesting novelty on both nights.

It has been rumored that among the attractions will be a "Texas Quartette," which will sing such songs as "Home on the Range" and "The Cowboy's Lament." The members of this quartette although hailing from different sections of the Lone Star State, have all held prominent positions on their respective college glee clubs, and since coming to this University have entertained their friends at various social gatherings. The boys will, in all probability, dress in something resembling range costume.

The two well known campus comedians, Jerry Sickler and Joe Danzansky, will act as masters of ceremonies on Friday and Saturday nights respectively.

The committee for judging the vodvil acts is composed of Constance Connor Brown, lecturer on play production, Professor Elmer Louis Kayser, and Leo David.

Final vodvil rehearsals will be held tomorrow and Thursday for Friday's and Saturday's programs respectively.

DO YOU INHALE?

Why is this vital question so much avoided by other cigarettes?

EVER since Lucky Strike created that special process for purifying fine tobacco and told the full facts about cigarette smoking—the industry has been in an uproar. For Lucky Strike has dared to mention things that were considered "taboo" in the cigarette trade.

You may have noticed a striking avoidance generally of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

That's why it's all-important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure you don't inhale certain impurities.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it gives you the protection you want... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!
